IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT.
Grand Display of French Millinery, &c.
MISS SHEEHAN & CO.'s.
WOULD respectfully announce to the ladies of this city and vicinity that she will open her inspection, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May the 17th, 18th and 19th, 1890, a choice and select assortment

MILINERY GOODS, &C.

The stock embraces everything that is new, novel and fashionable in the market, such as caps, hats, Bonnets, Bands and Amateurs, and every variety of style and price. Ladies Dress Caps, in endless variety. Misses Bonnets, Bands and Binding Hats, in price from one shilling to one guinea, which constitutes a First Class Millinery Establishment may be found here, all of which I will sell very low prices, being enabled to do so from the fact that I buy my goods direct from the best houses, both in New York and Chicago.

Miss Sheehan & Co. feel confident, from the long experience in the business, that all its various branches which we have, had, together with every facility for buying, that the customer will find to be the best and most profitable, durable, elegant and cheapness.

Ladies in want of a fashionable Bonnet will find it to be the latest in style and the most becoming cleavage. Respectfully submitted,

MISS SHEEHAN & CO.

Dansville, May 31st. Bonnets cleaned, bleached, pressed and made to look as good as new on short notice.

Dresses cut and made to order, one hour from McKays Bros, up stairs.

"The shifting sands of compromise are passing from under my feet, and they are now, without any agency of my own, taking hold again on the rock of the constitution. It shall be no fault of mine if they do not remain final. This seems to me auspicious of better days and wiser legislation."

Through all the darkness and gloom of the present hour, bright stars are breaking, that inspire me with hope, and excite me to perseverance. They show that the day of compromises has passed forever, and that henceforward all questions between freedom and slavery legitimately coming here—and none other can come—shall be decided as they ought to be, upon their merits, by a fair exercise of legislative power, and not by bargains of equivocal prudence, if not of doubtful morality."

Immediately upon the conclusion of this speech that bill which abrogated the Missouri compromise passed the senate of the United States. Ever since then the friends of freedom, and of the union, have been carrying on a defensive war to the extension of slavery, and have done all in their power to impress upon the territories of the United States the stamp of liberty, so that through their territorial papilage, as well as when the people thereof come to form a state government, in all cases when they acted to regulate their domestic institutions, they should make freedom, and not slavery the corner stone of their action. Year by year, acting upon the idea that the "day of compromises has passed," we have unceasingly and nuttingly labored to elevate to official positions, men whom we believed would never make any concessions to slavery. We have at last, by a most signal victory, by a fitting, crowning act, elected a President of the United States; and from the day of his nomination till the sun went down on the last day of the conflict, our loudest and most effectual war-cry—one which stirred into action the hearts of the people—was no compromise no concessions.

Hardly had the shouts of the victors died away before we heard those who had so wantonly violated their pledged faith, loudly demanding new compromises, new concessions from the north as their condition of the continuance of the union, and this time they are more arrogant in their demands than ever before. Having always secured the co-operation of enough representatives of the north to carry through congress any measure which they had inaugurated, they hope now to find as heretofore that the race of dough-faces is not wholly extinct. We have known that there were men from the north, whose greatest pleasure it would be to do the bidding of their masters, but we had not expected that they would be found in the ranks of the republicans. The passage of Rust's resolution through the "union saving committee," has revealed the fact that there are those with us who are not of us, and that even in our own ranks are men whose lives are so white, that they are ready to throw away all the fruits of our hard earned victory, and accept, nay, offer compromises which will yield all our vantage ground, by agreeing that slavery shall have free course in all our southwestern territories. Verily the days of compromises seem to be returning, and for once we fear New York's great statesman and favorite son has failed in his prophesies.

It is gratifying, however, to know that the men who never voted for a compromise, and never to destroy or abrogate one which others had made, is now as ever uncompromising. To him as an example we commend every republican, as a safe guide to follow in these factious times, and with him we urge all republicans to stand firm upon the constitution, and reject now and every, all propositions, come from whatever source they may, having for their object any recession from the positions which the republicans have taken, and upon which the masses all over the north require their representatives to stand.

The Madison Patriot wants to know whether we will not consent to apply a bandage to the arteries of the bleeding south? Not a bandage. They have torn open their own blood vessels, to excite the sympathies of the world and let them stop the flow of their life blood by their own surgery. We cannot help them, as they would not submit to our practice. If they will discard the air of a master towards us, cease to lynch our friends and drive them from their borders for no cause, and submit like men to the election of Abraham Lincoln, we will meet them more than half way, in ameliorating the evils of their situation. But with their present menacing and overbearing disposition manifested towards the north, we say let them alone, until they come to their senses. We never knew that it was policy to show cowardice towards a madman or a wild beast, to modify his rage or save one's self from being destroyed. A bold front and unquailing eye does more towards subduing a savage nature, than pitiful appeals and a white check.

TRENTON HOUSE IMPROVEMENT.—The improvements upon the Trenton House in Chicago, so long contemplated, are soon to be commenced, the arrangements being all completed. The entire building is to be raised six feet, portions of the rear to be re-built, and the interior to be remodelled. The work is to be commenced in February, and will be completed in about three months. The total cost of the improvement will be about $80,000.

The aggregate amount of Fowler's delinquency while postmaster of New York, is officially stated in the postmaster general's report at $170,947.07—being $17,000 in excess of the sum mentioned at the time of the exposure.

For the Daily Gazette.
How Traitors are Treated.

Truly, we have fallen upon evil times, when impious treason dares to raise unbuckled, her bloody head in the council chambers of the nation. Evil times, when men proclaim themselves as union-loving, constitution-abiding conservators of the public weal, and join hands with unblushing traitors, or lead themselves as ready apologists for the unholty acts of those who persistently plot our country's ruin.

Revengeful Cataline plotted treason in the Roman Senate and sought to flood the gates of the Eternal City with the best blood of her sons. But the traitor's fratricidal head bowed before the stern rebuke of Cicero and the unwavering patriotism of the people. Rome was safe. But with us traitors go unpunished. Nay, they make their beds with congressmen, dine with Presidents and grow sleek upon official rations.—Shame! Shame, on the weakness and corruption of the times! Where are the men, who so recently in our midst, were hoarse in their pleas for liberty? Have they no rebuke, no warning, no patriotism, with which to meet those who would imperil the dearest rights of this people and wreck the union of these states, the last hope and refuge of oppressed humanity? Have the union-saviors, those who so loud in their professions of devotion to the union and constitution, nothing to offer when that constitution and union are sought to be violently overthrown? Have they nothing to speak of now save northern aggression? When treason, arms in hand, lurks around the capitol or strides over the land, ready to disrupt this confederacy, have Presidents no other duty to perform than to say, "Please, gentlemen, don't?" A little band of half-starved settlers in Kansas are branded as traitors and hunted as outlaws. Wherefore the difference? Has the President no other argument besides lachrymose I-can't-help-it, to offer incipient traitors at the court, when threats of the rope's end and outlawry await his poor half-starved, half-naked brother in a distant territory, who, smarting under grievous wrongs, dares with famine on the threshold and one-eyed oppression at the gate, make a last effort for his own preservation? May God bless the nation, and the D—l take Buchanan!

We need just at this time no shuffling, drivelling old dotards to wear the imperial purple or direct the ship of state. There is no room for them on deck, let them go below—the lower the better. When the sky is dark and the storm prevails, and grim treachery lays her axe to the rudder, may the good Lord deliver us from all such, and raise up for us leaders fitted for the hour. May honey intelligence and wheedling conservatism drop the robes they have dishonored, and stand rebuked. Conservatism!—We hate conservatism—or at least that modern species of conservatism which, at such a juncture, has nothing else but "abolitionism" to hurl about or twaddle over.

And we are inclined to think that republicans in Congress, and republicans out of congress, might be in better business than patching up compromises only to be broken. Are we in the wrong that we must compromise with the manstealer when he demands admittance with his fetters and slave-whip into our very house? May God help us, and help our representatives, to look at this question in its proper light. We hope they are not so forgetful as to be unmindful of the brave words uttered by them a few hours ago when in the heat of the presidential conflict, nor so degenerate as to have forgotten the heroic lesson given by their allies.

The democratic papers are in hysterics about our personal liberty laws and declare that the Union will be dissolved unless they are repealed. Have they any assurance that the southern disunionists would be satisfied with even that? Senator Iversen declares that he does not care anything about the repeal of those laws; that the south intends to go out of the Union no matter what may be done. Before these democratic dough-faces go any farther, suppose they find out precisely upon what terms South Carolina and Georgia will consent to remain with us. It would not be pleasant to eat a peck of southern dirt and then be told that that quantity will not suffice—that they require us to swallow a least half a bushel before they will consent to talk about terms. Let us know the precise quantity of degradation we are to submit to, before we begin.

The Chicago Tribune declares that the banking system of Illinois "is simply legalized swindling, by which the utterances of our 'well secured currency' are enabled, in ordinary times, to make from 7 to 8 percent on their nominal investment, and from 40 to 60 percent on the actual cash required in their banking business."

How can we get rid of Illinois currency in Wisconsin? It will be useless to have a good currency here if Illinois is permitted to flood our state with their trash. A poor currency always drives out a good one, and regulate our own as we will, if our neighbors continue to bank after their present fashion, we are likely to have their rags for an exclusive circulation. Can our legislature help us? Would a law be constitutionally declaring that no debt should be considered canceled by it, and no article purchased paid for when Illinois bank bills are taken in exchange? If this will not remedy the evil, what can we do in Wisconsin to relieve ourselves of the worthless bank rags from Illinois?

REPORTED FOR THE DAILY GAZETTE.
BY WISCONSIN STATE TELEGRAPH LINE,
Office in Union Passenger Depot.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Dec. 17. The convention had four ballots on a permanent president, on the third ballot Gov. Gist received 98; ex-Senator Chestnut 17, ex-Speaker Orr 32, Mr. Jamieson 16, with some few scattering.

On the 4th ballot Mr. Jamieson received 118 votes; ex-Speaker Orr 30, scattering 3. Mr. Jamieson on taking the chair said he had not language to express his thanks for the honor conferred upon him in making him the presiding officer over the deliberations of the convention. He considered that the convention was engaged in a most important duty, the most important that has ever devolved on South Carolina. God only knows what will be the result of our proceedings, but he would invoke God's protection for the state.

A resolution was then offered that when the convention adjourn it be to meet in Charleston at 4 o'clock to-morrow afternoon. This resolution caused considerable deep debate.

Mr. Mills appealed to the convention not to adjourn to Charleston, but to remain here, regardless of the small pox or other physical or moral causes, and discharge the duties required by South Carolina.

Mr. Cochrane, of Abbeville, said he would never consent to leave Columbia until the ordinance of secession was passed and urged members to stand up to all the responsibilities of their position, and remain and perfect their work.

Mr. Keitt said he was as ardently devoted to secession as any man, and he would not leave the convention until their action was completed, but urged their adjourning to Charleston. He said he never would consent to hurry through the proceedings of the convention, and gave notice that no ordinance should be passed with his consent until every point was fully considered in all its bearings after a full investigation and discussion. He said they were engaged in a high patriotic duty and demanded that the members should be in a location where their minds could fairly grapple with the issues involved, and not be beguiled by a fearful and dishonest pestilence when no pressing necessity required it.

Others engaged in the discussion pro and con.

The motion to adjourn to Charleston was finally carried by a large majority.

Resolutions were adopted inviting the commissioners from Alabama and Mississippi to seats on the floor, and also, that they address the convention to-night at seven o'clock.

A motion was made to invite Hon. Howell Cobb to a seat on the floor.

Some members objected and thought it would be expressing complimentary terms to Mr. Cobb that were not accorded to the commissioners.

The motion to tender him a seat prevailed with a few dissenting voices.

At the inauguration of the Governor to-day, the galleries of the representative hall were crowded with many ladies. Mr. Pickens read the inaugural. His sentiments were decidedly for secession and were warmly applauded in the rear of Mr. Pickens.

The speaker's stand were Mr. Cobb, and Messrs. Elmore and Hookey, commissioners from Alabama and Mississippi.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Dec. 17. Evening Session.—The convention re-assembled at 7 P. M. with Hon. D. F. Jamieson president in the chair. Mr. Inglis introduced the following resolutions:

Resolved, That a committee of members be appointed to draft an ordinance proper to be adopted by this convention. Persons desirous of submitting for the consideration of the convention any draft or scheme are requested to hand the same without delay to the said committee.

Resolved, That the acts of the general assembly of this state providing for the assembling of this convention 94 referred to the same committee with instruction to act thereon. The clerk then named a clerk messenger and door keeper.

Mr. Hudson moved to lay the amendment on the table.

Mr. Cheever moved to lay that motion on the table.

Mr. Withers—Some members of this convention are better adapted for one sort than another. The agriculturalist will not do to examine commercial statistics and their bearings, and vice versa. The convention had met to consider the pulling down of government and the building up of another, to determine our foreign and domestic relations, and matters about changing the constitution of the state. It is certain the committee, however able, cannot consider all and everything. He would ask whether it is prudent to submit to the opinions of any one committee?

Mr. Gregg said the committee was appointed to expedite business. They are necessary to prevent the convention from becoming a debating society. He advocated the amendment.

Mr. Ward moved to fill with seven.

Mr. Wardley moved for twenty-one.

Mr. Ward's motion was carried and the resolution adopted.

Mr. Manroget offered a resolution earnestly requesting the commissioners from Ala. and Miss. to meet the convention at Charleston.

Mr. Hope moved a vote of thanks to the Baptist denomination for the use of their building. Carried.

The credentials of the commissioners were ordered to be entered on the minutes.

Mr. Keitt moved to adjourn and at 10:20 the convention adjourned.

New York, Dec. 18. The steamer Zebra, from Liverpool via Queenstown 6th, arrived this morning. News anticipated. She brings $660,000 in gold.

A fearful explosion had occurred in the Risco coal mines, near Newport, Wales, entailing the loss of 170 lives.

The World learns from an authentic source, that the British and French consuls at Charleston have been approached by the secessionists with a view to secure their co-operation, both replied that they would not to them would be immediately transmitted to the state department at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. The Illinois house delegation had a meeting to-night. Lovejoy and Morris were absent.

A resolution was agreed upon informally that the union must and shall be preserved. A full meeting was expected, including the senators, that the resolutions may be formally and unanimously adopted.

South Carolina commissioners, headed by Mr. Keitt, are expected on Thursday, to negotiate with the government for Forts Moultrie and Sumpter.

New York, Dec. 18. The new steamer John P. King, built to ply between this port and Charleston on Bradford and Tillamook lines, was fired this morning at 10 o'clock by a rebel gun.

The King was valued at $160,000, was partially insured. She was owned in this city and Charleston. The burning ship was viewed by thousands of persons.

A strong address to the people of Mass., is published this A. M., denouncing the constitutionality of the personal liberty bill, and recommending its repeal. The address is signed by 35 gentlemen including Ex-Chief Justice Shaw, Hon. P. R. Curtis, late judge of the United States supreme court, Ex-Gov. Lincoln, Clifford, Washburne, Gardner and other eminent citizens, representing nearly every county in the state.

BRANFLORE, S. C., Dec. 18. A train from Columbia with 400 delegates to the state convention and members of the legislature arrived at 1 o'clock.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18. The speaker of the house laid before the house a letter from Mr. Washburne of Me., informing him that he has placed in the hands of the Gov. of that state his resignation as representative, to take effect from the first of January.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18. The secretary of the treasury has authorized for proposals until the 25th for the issue of treasury notes pursuant to the act just passed. It is reliably ascertained that Secretary Thompson's mission to North Carolina as a representative from Mississippi is to procure her co-operation with all the southern states, in the event that Lincoln's administration shall aggress upon southern rights, whatever may be his individual opinion on the subject of secession.

TORONTO, Dec. 15. The court of the Queen's bench decision in the extraordinary case of the fugitive slave James, alias Anderson, was rendered this A. M., in favor of giving up the prisoner to the United States authorities. One of the judges dissenting, an appeal has been made. The prisoner is strictly guarded. No attempt at a rescue has been made, but much excitement prevails.

FESTINGS,

On the 3d day of March, 1854, Mr. Seward in the senate of the United States delivered a speech on the passage of the Kansas-Nebraska bill, which he closed with the following language:

"The shifting sands of compromise are passing from under my feet, and they are now, without any agency of my own, taking hold again on the rock of the constitution. It shall be no fault of mine if they do not remain firm. This seems to me the auspicious of better days and wiser legislation. Through all the darkness and gloom of the present hour, bright stars are breaking, that inspire me with a hope, and excite me to perseverance. They show that the day of compromises has passed forever, and that henceforward all questions between freedom and slavery legitimately coming here—and none other can come—shall be decided as they ought to be, upon their merits, by a fair exercise of legislative power, and not by bargains of equivocal prudence, if not of doubtful morality."

Immediately upon the conclusion of this speech that bill which recognized the Missouri compromise passed the senate of the United States. Ever since then the friends of freedom, and of the union, have been carrying on a defensive war to the extension of slavery, and have done all in their power to impress upon the territories of the United States the stamp of liberty, so that through their territorial pupillage, as well as when the people thereof come to form a state government, in all cases when they acted to regulate their domestic institutions, they should make freedom, not slavery the corner stone of their action. Year by year, acting upon the idea that the "day of compromises has passed," we have unceasingly and untiringly labored to elevate to official positions, men whom we believed would never make any concessions to slavery. We have at last, by a most signal victory, by a fitting, crowning act, elected a President of the United States; and from the day of his nomination till the sun went down on the last day of the conflict, our loud and most effectual war-cry—one which stirred into action the hearts of the people—was no compromise no concessions.

Hardly had the shouts of the victors died away before we heard those who had so wantonly violated their pledged faith, loudly demanding new compromises, new concessions from the north as their condition of the continuance of the union, and this time they are more arrogant in their demands than ever before. Having always secured the co-operation of enough representatives of the north to carry through congress any measure which they had inaugurated, they hope now to find as heretofore that the race of dough-faces is not wholly extinct. We have known that there were men from the north, whose greatest pleasure it would be to do the bidding of their masters, but we had not expected that they would be found in the ranks of the republicans. The passage of Russell's resolution through the "union saving committee," has revealed the fact that there are those with us who are not of us, and that even in our own ranks are men whose lives are so white, that they are ready to throw away all the fruits of our hard earned victory, and accept, ay, offer compromises which will yield all our vantage ground, by agreeing that slavery shall have free course in all our southwestern territories. Verily the days of compromise seem to be returning, and for once we fear New York's great statesman and favorite son has failed in his prophesies.

It is gratifying, however, to know that he who never voted for a compromise, and never to destroy or abrogate one which others had made, is now as ever uncompromising. To him as an example we commend every republican, as a safe guide to follow in these factious times, and with him we urge all republicans to stand firm upon the constitution, and reject now and ever, all propositions, come from whatever source they may, having for their object any recession from the positions which the republicans have taken, and upon which the masses all over the north require their representatives to stand.

The Madison Patriot wants to know whether we will not consent to apply a bandage to the arteries of the bleeding south? Not a bandage. They have torn open their own blood vessels, to excite the sympathies of the world and let them stop the flow of their life blood by their own surgery. We can not help them, as they would not submit to our practice. If they will discard the air of a master towards us, cease to lynch our friends and drive them from their borders for no cause, and submit like men to the election of Abraham Lincoln, we will meet them more than half way, in ameliorating the evils of their situation. But with their present menacing and overbearing disposition manifested towards the north, we say let them alone, until they come to their senses. We never knew that it was policy to show cowardice towards a madman or a wild beast, to modify his rage or save one's self from being destroyed. A bold front and unquailing eye does more towards subduing a savage nature, than pitiful appeals and a white cheek.

Tremont House Improvement.—The improvements upon the Tremont House in Chicago, so long contemplated, are soon to be commenced, the arrangements being all completed. The entire building is to be raised six feet, portions of the rear to be re-built, and the interior to be remodelled. The work is to be commenced in February, and will be completed in about three months. The total cost of the improvement will be about $80,000.

The aggregate amount of Fowler's delinquency while postmaster of New York, is officially stated in the postmaster general's report at $170,947.67—being $17,000 in excess of the sum mentioned at the time of the exposure.

The convention had four ballots on a permanent president, on the third ballot Gov. Gist received 38; ex-Senator Chestnut 17; ex-Speaker Orr, 32; Mr. Jamieson 16, with some less scattering.

On the 4th ballot Mr. Jamieson received 118 votes; ex-Speaker Orr 30, casting 3. Mr. Jamieson on taking the chair said he had no language to express his thanks for the honor conferred upon him in making him the presiding officer over the deliberations of the convention. He considered that the convention was engaged in a most important duty, the most important that has ever devolved on South Carolina. God only knows what will be the result of our proceedings, but he would implore God's protection for the state.

A resolution was then offered that when the convention adjourn it be to meet in Charleston at 4 o'clock to-morrow afternoon. This resolution caused considerable debate.

Mr. Mills appealed to be convention not to adjourn to Charleston, but to remain here, regardless of the small pox or other physical or moral causes, and discharge the duties required by South Carolina. He urged that other states would fear at the timidity in the present crisis, and that the moral power of the present movement would be effected in other sympathizing states if we adjourn to Charleston.

Mr. Cochrane, of Abbeville, said he would never consent to leave Columbia until the ordinance of secession was passed and urged members to stand up to all the responsibilities of their position, and remain in their seats. Mr. Keitt said he was as ardently devoted to secession as any man, and determined to be with the convention until their action was completed, but urged their adjourning to Charleston. He said he never would consent to hurry through the proceedings of the convention, and gave notice that no ordinance should be passed with his consent until every point was duly considered in all its bearings after a full investigation and discussion. He said they were engaged in a high patriotic duty and demanded that the members should be in a location where their minds could fairly grapple with the issues involved, and not be beguiled by a fearful and lathsome pestilence when no pressing necessity required it.

Others engaged in the discussion pro and con. The motion to adjourn to Charleston was finally carried by a large majority. Resolutions were adopted inviting the commissioners from Alabama and Mississippi to seats on the floor, and, also, that they address the convention to-night at seven o'clock.

A motion was made to invite Hon. Howell Cobb to a seat on the floor. Some members objected and thought it would be expressing complimentary terms to Mr. Cobb that were not accorded to the commissioners. The motion to tender him a seat prevailed with a few dissenting voices.

The inauguration of the Governor to-day, the galleries of the representative hall were crowded with many ladies. Mr. Pickens read the inaugural. His sentiments were decidedly for secession and were warmly applauded. In the rear of Mr. Pickens, at the speaker's stand were Mr. Cobb and Messrs. Elmore and Hooker, commissioners from Alabama and Mississippi.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Dec. 17. Evening Session.—The convention re-assembled at 7 P. M. with Hon. D. F. Jamieson president in the chair. Mr. Inglis introduced the following resolutions: Resolved, That a committee of members be appointed to draft an ordinance proper to be adopted by this convention. Persons desirous of submitting for the consideration of the convention any draft or scheme be requested to hand the same without delay to the said committee.

Resolved, That the acts of the general assembly of this state providing for the assembling of this convention 44 referred to the same committee with instruction to act thereon. The clerk then named a clerk messenger and door keeper.

Ex-Governor Adams here introduced to the convention the commissioners from Alabama and Mississippi, who were greeted with great applause. The commissioners from Alabama spoke first and commissioners from Mississippi next. Both speeches were moderate in tone and principally went to show that they the commissioners appointed by the authority of the governor of their respective states and in accordance with the desires of a majority of the people of their states. The first resolution was then adopted. Yeas 159, nays none. In the 2nd resolution Mr. Gadsden moved to fill the blank with 21. Mr. Rhet moved to amend by inserting other matters for consideration of the committee or which may be presented to them.

Mr. Barnwell says the committee will have the right to report the whole subject. Everything should be first submitted to the committee. Mr. Inglis says the object will be accomplished without amendment.

Mr. Rhet says that the committee can originate anything within itself for instance an address comes from any one of this body it will have fair consideration.

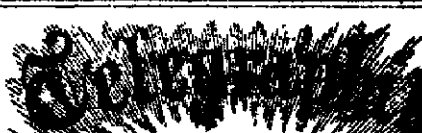

Mr. Cheever says the great aim and object is to avoid every side issue. We have here a single issue, that there is a single voice with the state of South Carolina. Business is expedited by confining ourselves to secession. Our first aim is to break the chain of this union. The next step will be to study the point of direction.

Mr. Hayne says the proposition as he understands it is that a committee of 21 be appointed to take into consideration the various measures that might be introduced to the consideration of the convention, that they should receive all such schemes from whatever quarter they may come and they shall have the privilege to do whatever pertains to the business of the convention with a view of recommending to this convention whatsoever action they might think proper for consideration or proposition for discussion, among the committee is a matter simply of the secession of South Carolina from the present government. I take it there has been sufficient expression of opinion here upon this occasion to guide that committee. Secession is a subject upon which all agree unanimously. Let the committee be composed of greater intellect.

Mr. Brady says separate the work for separate committees, let there be a separate committee for the consideration of the question what is executive authority, and what is citizenship. It is necessary to have the mass of the convention actively at work. Let each committee have its peculiar province.

Mr. Calhoun.—The committee itself must be divided in opinion. The convention will have enough to do to put things in proper shape by referring different subjects to different committees. There would be a clashing.

Mr. Middleton.—In Charleston it will be more difficult to get the majority of a large committee to agree than the majority of a small committee. I trust the amendment will not be agreed to.

Mr. Ward moved to fill with seven. Mr. Ward moved for twenty-one.

Mr. Ward's motion was carried and the resolution adopted.

Mr. Mauregard offered a resolution earnestly requesting the commissioners from Ala. and Miss. to meet the convention at Charleston.

Mr. Hope moved a vote of thanks to the Baptist denomination for the use of their building. Carried.

The credentials of the commissioners were ordered to be entered on the minutes. Mr. Keitt moved to adjourn and at 10:20 the convention adjourned.

New York, Dec. 18. The steamer Elma, from Liverpool via Queenstown 6th, arrived this morning. News anticipated. She brings $650,000 in gold.

A fearful explosion had occurred in the Risco coal mines, near Newport, Wales, entailing the loss of 170 lives.

The World learns from an authentic source, that the British and French consuls at Charleston have been approached by the secessionists with a view to secure their co-operation, both replied that any communication to them would be immediately transmitted to the state department at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. The Illinois house delegation had a meeting to-night, Lovejoy and Morris were absent.

A resolution was agreed upon informally that the union must and shall be preserved. A full meeting was expected, including the senators, that the resolutions may be formally and unanimously adopted.

The New Hampshire delegation have unanimously resolved that the true course is the protection of the public property and the enforcement of the revenue laws, at all hazards.

South Carolina commissioners, headed by Mr. Keitt, are expected on Thursday, to negotiate with the government for Fort Moultrie and Sumpter.

New York, Dec. 18. The new steamer John P. King, built to ply between this port and Charleston on Spafford and Tillatsons line took fire this A. M. at pier No. 4 North River and was almost totally destroyed. She was towed into the stream and grounded on the battery enlargement.

The King was valued at $160,000, was partially insured. She was owned in this city by Charleston. The burning ship was viewed by thousands of persons.

Boston, Dec. 18. A strong address to the people of Mass., is published this A. M., denouncing the constitutionality of the personal liberty bill, and recommending its repeal. The address is signed by 35 gentlemen including Ex Chief Justice Shaw, Hon. P. R. Curtis late judge of the United States supreme court, Ex Gov. Lincoln, Clifford, Washburne, Gardner and other eminent citizens, representing nearly every county in the state.

NEWSPAPER CHANGES.—Several newspaper changes and improvements have recently taken place in the newspaper press of this state which are worthy of notice.

The Milwaukee Free Democrat has changed proprietors and editors—Judge A. D. Smith and G. W. Chapman assuming the charge of the editorial department and A. D. Smith becoming proprietor. The Free Democrat, under such editors, must become a leading journal in the west.

The Milwaukee News and People's Press have been united, and Beriah Brown takes the position of chief editor.

The Wisconsin State Rights has been transferred to Stevens Point, where its publication will be continued as a republican journal.

The Madison Daily Argus has been enlarged, and fully maintains its reputation as a readable, lively paper.

The Racine Democrat, which suspended immediately after the election, will be re-suscitated.

The Burlington Gazette will be transferred to Horicon, and the Horicon Argus removed to Beaver Dam.

The number of deaths from diphtheria in the United States during the past year, is said to be no less than 10,000. This terrible disease still prevails in Albany, says the Argus, but not, we believe, to any alarming extent.

In Johnston, on the 15th inst., at the residence of H. A. Grant, by B. B. Spencer, M. P. J. HARRISON, of Whitewater, and Miss MARY HARRISON, of Johnston.

In Janesville, Dec. 12th, 1860, FREDIE D., youngest son of J. A. and S. W. Vought, aged 10 months and 2 days.

Relief for Kansas.

At a meeting of the citizens of the south and east part of the town of Fulton, for the purpose of affording aid to the sufferers of Kansas, on the evening of the 13th inst., Isaac Miles was chosen chairman and L. W. Sherman secretary.

The object of the meeting was stated by the chairman, and that immediate action was called for.

The meeting selected Isaac Miles as general receiver, and John Holmes, James Hopkins, R. T. Powell, Calvin Barker, Henry Bruce, Charles Bowerman, M. Soverhill and Jonathan Roberts as solicitors in their several neighborhoods.

The meeting adjourned with a determination to act promptly and efficiently in the matter.

ISAAC MILES, Chairman.

L. W. SHERMAN, Secretary.

KANSAS RELIEF.—The Kansas Relief committee would report that they have shipped the following items:

BOOKS AS GIFTS FOR THE HOLIDAYS.—What is a more elegant and beautiful gift of friendship or affection than a good book? We involuntarily asked this question upon viewing the showy display of Books for the Holidays which may be seen at Moseley's. These gentlemen have a fine assortment of books in this line, as well as works of a more standard character. In our advertising columns to day may be found a list of a portion of their stock suitable for Holiday Gifts, and we commend their establishment to the public as worthy of the liberal patronage of all.

That old 'bee hive' which has so long withstood the elements, and been a hanger-on to Myers' old block was removed this afternoon.

If any person not interested in the business, peculiarly, desires to see real live fun, let him avail himself of an eligible position and watch for a while the operations of wheat buyers. If we were the owner of a load of grain, and should see the buyers pitch at us 'as they do at some men, we should make up our mind at once to get 'took in,' horses, wagon, bags and all. It's fun for us.

To-day has been a mean kind of a day. A cold, drizzly rain has been falling, not enough to make it very muddy, but just enough to make it unpleasant to be out.

Circuit Court.—The jury, in the case of J. W. T. Murray for obtaining goods under false pretences, have returned a verdict of guilty.

The trial of W. W. Hastings, for an assault with intent to commit a rape, was continued for the term.

J. M. Havens, indicted for obtaining goods under false pretences, Chas. Stickney for keeping a house of ill-fame, and Chauncey Ehle for arson, failed to appear and the recognisance of each was declared forfeited. A change of venue was granted in the case of Peter Oleson, indicted for arson, and Daniel Lovejoy, for adultery; both to Dane county.

The complaint against Jed. H. Rook was dismissed.

Henry A. Ewing plead guilty to larceny. John Thornton was convicted of burglary, and Nicholas Shummar plead guilty to the same offense.

Gustavus Fritz was admitted as a citizen of the United States.

LECTURE ON MEXICO AND CENTRAL AMERICA.—We would call attention to the notice of a lecture, by Mr. Hoyt, on this subject. We propose to-morrow to give some account of the object of the lecturer and his claims to a hearing from the people of this city.

FOR TRADE OF ST. LOUIS.—During the past year there has been received at St. Louis, 80,000 buffalo robes. Of these, 66,600 were received from the upper Missouri, 11,500 from the Platte Region, and 2,600 from the Osage Region. Average value per robe, $3.50, in round numbers $380,000.—The robes from the Upper Missouri are the products of the Blackfoot Indians, being on the headwaters of the Missouri river, some 3,000 miles from the mouth of that stream. These robes are all tanned by women while the men hunt. Immense numbers of buffalo are killed for meat only, and in summer and other seasons, when the skin is comparatively bare of wool or hair, and consequently worthless. The robes taken in winter are best. Probably not over a tenth of those slaughtered furnish us robes so that the whole number of buffalo killed during the season will reach 800,000.

Since the banks at St. Louis have suspended specie payment, exchange is scarce and dearer, and has risen to ten per cent. premium.

COMMERCIAL.

Janesville Wholesale Market.

Reported for the Janesville Gazette, by BUMP & GRAY, GRAIN AND PRODUCE DEALERS.

JANESVILLE, December 15, 1880. There was a small increase in receipts of wheat, and a large increase in dressed hogs to-day over yesterday, and we note an advance on both wheat and pork. Sales of 2000 bushels wheat at 68¢72¢ for milling spring, and 69¢50¢ for shipping, closing firm, particularly for choice milling grades. Receipts of dressed hogs were 80 head, which sold at 5,40¢56¢ for heavy to extra heavy, and 4,76¢52¢ for light. The advance is owing to a strong competition between packers and shippers. Other produce unchanged.

We make up prices as follows: WHEAT—good to choice milling spring 67¢71¢; fair to good dry shipping 69¢40¢; damp and grown 50¢40¢. OATS—dull at 14¢16¢ per bushel. RYE—declined to 33¢35¢ per 60 lbs. CORN—red shelled 20¢22¢ per 60 lbs. New in ear 16¢20¢ per 100 lbs. BARLEY—good quality 30¢35¢ per 50 lbs., common 20¢25¢.

TIMOTHY SEED—in request at 1,50¢1,70¢ per 40 lbs. DRESSED HOGS—in demand at 4,60¢55¢ per 100 for heavy to extra heavy, and 4,75¢52¢ for light. POTATOES—plenty at 15¢20¢ for good to choice ones. BUTTER—wanted at 15¢17¢ good to choice quality. EGGS—scarce at 22¢23¢ per dozen. HIDES—green, 44¢45¢; Dry, 40¢, 42¢. FLOUR—spring at 2,25¢ per 100 lbs. POULTRY—dressed turkeys, 6¢47¢; chickens, 5¢53¢; SILENT FELTS—range from 25¢ to 1,00¢ each.

BOOKS AS GIFTS FOR THE HOLIDAYS.—What is a more elegant and beautiful gift of friendship or affection than a good book? We involuntarily asked this question upon viewing the showy display of Books for the Holidays which may be seen at Mossley's. These gentlemen have a fine assortment of books in this line, as well as works of a more standard character. In our advertising columns to day may be found a list of a portion of their stock suitable for Holiday Gifts, and we commend their establishment to the public as worthy of the liberal patronage of all.

That old "bee hive" which has so long withstood the elements, and been a hang-on to Myers' old block was removed this afternoon.

If any person not interested in the business, pecuniarily, desires to see real live fun, let him avail himself of an eligible position and watch for a while the operations of wheat buyers. If we were the owner of a load of grain, and should see the buyers pitch at us as they do at some men, we should make up our mind at once to get "hooked in," horses, wagon, bags and all. It's fun for us.

To-day has been a mean kind of a day. A cold, drizzly rain has been falling, not enough to make it very muddy, but just enough to make it unpleasant to be out.

CIRCUIT COURT.—The jury, in the case of J. W. T. Murray for obtaining goods under false pretences, have returned a verdict of guilty.

The trial of W. W. Hastings, for an assault with intent to commit a rape, was continued for the term.

J. M. Havens, indicted for obtaining goods under false pretences, Chas. Stickney for keeping a house of ill-fame, and Chauncey Ehle for arson, failed to appear and the recognisance of each was declared forfeited.

A change of venue was granted in the case of Peter Olsson, indicted for arson, and Daniel Lovejoy, for adultery; both to Dane county.

The complaint against Jed. H. Rook was dismissed.

Henry A. Ewing plead guilty to larceny.

John Thornton was convicted of burglary, and Nicholas Shummar plead guilty to the same offense.

Gustavus Fritz was admitted as a citizen of the United States.

LECTURE ON MEXICO AND CENTRAL AMERICA.—We would call attention to the notice of a lecture, by Mr. Hoyt, on this subject. We propose to-morrow to give some account of the object of the lecturer and his claims to a hearing from the people of this city.

FUR TRADE OF ST. LOUIS.—During the past year there has been received at St. Louis, 80,000 buffalo robes. Of these, 56,600 were received from the upper Missouri, 11,500 from the Platte Region, and 2,900 from the Osage Region. Average value per robe, $3.50, in round numbers $360,000.—The robes from the Upper Missouri are the products of the Blackfoot Indians, being on the headwaters of the Missouri river, some 3,000 miles from the mouth of that stream. These robes are all tanned by women while the men hunt. Immense numbers of buffalo are killed for meat only, and in summer and other seasons, when the skin is comparatively bare of wool or hair, and comparatively worthless. The robes taken in winter are best. Probably not over a tenth of those slaughtered furnish us robes—so that the whole number of buffalo killed during the season will reach 800,000.

Since the banks at St. Louis have suspended specie payment, exchange is scarce and dearer, and has risen to ten per cent. premium.

COMMERCIAL.

Janesville Wholesale Market.

Reported for the Janesville Gazette, BUMP & GRAY, GRAIN AND PRODUCE DEALERS.

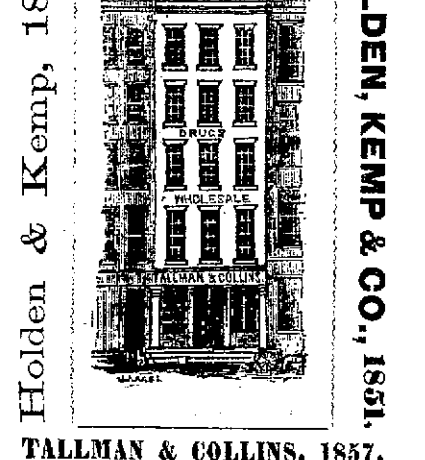

JANESVILLE, December 18, 1860. There was a small increase in receipts of wheat, and a large increase in dressed hogs to-day over yesterday, and we note an advance on both wheat and pork. Sales of 2000 bushels wheat at 86¢ for milling spring, and 62¢ for shipping, closing firm, particularly for choice milling grades. Receipts of dressed hogs were 80 head, which sold at 5.40¢ to 5.55 for heavy to extra heavy, and 4.75¢ to 5.25 for light. The advance is owing to a strong competition between packers and shippers. Other produce unchanged.

We make up prices as follows: WHEAT—good to choice, milling spring 61¢; fair to good dry shipping 62¢; 405; damp and grown 56¢. OATS—dull at 34¢ to 35¢ per bushel. RYE—declined to 38¢ to 40¢ per 60 lbs. CORN—old shelled 30¢ to 32¢ per 60 lbs. New in ear 18¢ to 20¢ per 70 lbs. BARLEY—good quality 30¢ to 32¢ per 50 lbs, common 28¢ to 30¢.

TIMOTHY SEED—in request at 1.50¢ to 1.70 per 40 lbs. DRESSED HOGS—in demand at 5.40¢ to 5.55 per 100 for heavy to extra heavy, and 4.75¢ to 5.25 for light. POTATOES—plenty at 15¢ to 20¢ for good to choice ones. BUTTER—wanted at 15¢ to 17¢ for good to choice quality. EGGS—scarce at 13¢ to 15¢ per dozen. HIDES—Green, 44¢ to 45¢; Dry, 40¢ to 42¢. FLOUR—spring at 2.50, per 100 lbs. POULTRY—dressed turkeys, 45¢; chickens, 35¢. SHEEP BELTS—range from 25¢ to 1.00 each.
